PROGRAM DESCRIPTION

The “Office Worker Program” was originally designed to allow individuals with developmental disabilities who were eligible for DD Waiver funding, to experience working in public sector jobs or private sector jobs that were non-stereotypic for people with disabilities. The work opportunity allowed for program participants to determine whether they had the interests and aptitudes for working in jobs not typically offered through supported employment programs, while being paid at least minimum wage for this experience. Hours and locations of job sites varied.

The revamped Work Experience Grant Program is now clarifying that the Office worker Program was never limited to “office work,” but rather non-stereotypic employment at minimum wages and a means for breaking into new market niches, including public sector jobs. Individuals who are interested in community employment are now able to apply for grant funding in collaboration with their supported employment agency. Accent, a division of Acumen Fiscal Management Services is the employer of record for the Work Experience Grant Program.

There are three design models for this program. They are: 1) Trial Work Opportunity, 2) Community-Based Situational Assessment, and 3) Microenterprise. The Work Experience Grant program can be accessed to cover funding for wages and workers’ compensation insurance for individuals in the Trial Work Opportunity and the Community-Based Situational Assessment models. The Microenterprise model is designed to cover business start-up costs that cannot be obtained through other means.

When applying for this program, the applicant must specify which type of program model is being requested. Below is a description of the three models:

Trial Work Opportunity

Trial Work Opportunities typically occur when a job candidate and an employer are exploring a hiring decision. The employer may want to know if the potential employee would be a good match for the position and the company. The potential worker may be hired for a short period of time as a “Trial work experience employee”. Wages are required to be paid for the time worked. A trial work experience also gives the candidate an opportunity to better understand the company and the expectations of the position that he or she is considering. This cannot be used if funding through the New Mexico Division of Vocational Rehabilitation (DVR) is available.

Community-Based Situational Assessments

Community-Based Situational Assessments are conducted in “real world” employment settings and situations. This type of assessment places an individual with a disability in a work environment consistent with an actual job, where a job opening is not yet available. Situational assessments are typically conducted in different work settings for short periods of time in order to inform the assessor and help the individual realize his/her work interests and aptitudes in order to create a good job match. Community-Based Situational Assessments can be a valuable tool for assisting a person with a disability to make choices about the types of jobs and work environments that he/she would enjoy. These activities can be used to augment a discovery process or other person-centered planning assessment.

Microenterprise (Self-Employment)

The Microenterprise model serves as an alternative to traditional employment supporting adults with developmental disabilities to operate their own businesses. Start-up activities typically include: conducting a market analysis, the development a business plan, researching compliance with local laws and making connections to community resources. Under the Work Experience Grant Program, the Microenterprise model is designed to cover business start-up costs that cannot be obtained through other means, including the New Mexico Division of Vocational Rehabilitation (DVR).

BENEFITS OF THE PROGRAM

- Allows individuals to have an informed choice when deciding on an employment outcome, including determining vocational aptitudes and interests.
- Allows individuals to determine whether a specific work environment may be a good job match.
- Allows potential employers to meet job-seekers.
- Breaks down barriers to individuals accessing their communities.
- Provides IDT's with information about what services may be required to support the individual while working. Examples include, determining transportation options, potential medical, behavioral or childcare needs, and potential impacts on Social Security benefits.

MINIMUM REQUIREMENTS OF THE PROGRAM

1. The individual must be working with a provider agency that can commit to provide one-on-one job supports for the duration of the program. (This grant does not pay for staff supports. Payment for staff supports would need to be negotiated between the individual who is receiving supports and the provider. Staff who provide these supports are eligible to bill the related Waiver, if applicable.)
2. The work experience must be short-term (except for the microenterprise model).
3. Individuals must be paid at least the applicable minimum wage.
4. The work experience must occur in an integrated setting. The work experience cannot occur in a provider agency-occupied building.
5. The Community-Based Situational Assessment model must result in a written assessment and résumé for the individual. DDS reserves the right to request copies of these documents.
6. A provider agency can apply for this program for an individual one time during a 12-month period based on the date of the application. Trial Work Opportunities and Community-Based Situational Assessments typically do not exceed 4 weeks.

7. The provider agency must be willing to comply with any training on payroll systems required by Accent.
8. The provider agency must follow through with providing services as outlined on the Work Experience Grant Program application. Failure to do so may result in termination in participation in this program or potential financial sanctions.

2. Individuals must be eligible to receive services through DDS.

5. Services in this grant can only be accessed when services are not otherwise available to the beneficiary under either special education and related services as defined in section 602(16) and (17) of the Education of the Handicapped Act (20 U.S.C. 1401(16) and (17) or vocational rehabilitation services available to the individual through a program funded under section 110 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973 (29 U.S.C. 730).
