- A HANDBOOK -

NM DEPARTMENT OF HEALTH

Introduction and Acknowledgements

This handbook is a collaborative effort between Parents Reaching Out and the New Mexico Department of Health, Developmental Disabilities Supports Division (DDSD) with contributions from the Statewide Children's Advisory Task Force, an advisory group to DDSD.

We would like to extend appreciation to all who provided input and information to make this handbook possible.

This handbook has been designed to guide individual applicants as well as families, teachers, social workers, advocates, professionals and others to a better understanding of the process of applying for the Developmental Disabilities Waiver Program. Our goal is to provide information that will make the application process easier for families and others who apply on behalf of a person who has a developmental disability.

A glossary is included in this handbook for your reference.

A MESSAGE TO APPLICANTS, FAMILIES AND INTERESTED PARTIES

Dear Friends,

I started the process of getting my daughter on the DD Waiver Program almost eight years ago. I had heard about the program and I knew it would be the place to get the services she and our family needed. At the time, we heard the waiting list was long and she might have to wait for years to get any services. We decided to start the application process anyway since it sounded worth the wait. It has proven to be just that—worth the years we had to wait.

When I first went to apply, I went with another parent whose child was considered Medically Fragile. We went to the Income Support Division Office in our area and sat in the waiting room and filled out the form. I learned my first lesson about what you need to do when applying for the program—always get a copy of anything you fill out...they will stamp your form with a date of receipt when you turn it in at the ISD Office—make sure your copy has a dated receipt.

We learned we would need to provide all kinds of records from doctors, therapists and educators. Luckily I had learned to keep good records during our many doctor visits and school encounters. Another lesson I learned was—providing good records can help things move along more quickly. Yes, we waited many years but when we got our allocation letter we knew we were close. Our first meeting with the Case Manager was an introduction to what still needed to be done.

My daughter is on the Waiver now and we are thankful we applied. The services have helped her to progress and helped our family get stronger. It will soon be time for our daughter to leave home and, with the waiver in place, we don't have to worry about how she will be served. We can help to plan, through the waiver services, just what she will need to live in her own house.

Be patient; it is worth the wait.

WHAT IS A MEDICAID HOME AND COMMUNITY-BASED WAIVER?

Why Waivers?

There was a time when a family had little choice in obtaining services for their child with a disability. A child with significant needs, more often than not, was ineligible for coverage under traditional health plans (unless born under such a plan). Many families had no way to access adequate medical care and support services needed. The only option the families had was to admit their child to a state institution for the mentally retarded. Automatically, their child became eligible for Medicaid and was able to access an array of services and specialized care.

In order to support the national trend toward moving people from long-term care institutions into the community, the federal government created the Title XIX (19) Home and Community-Based Services Program in 1981. Since this act makes an exception to or waives traditional Medicaid requirements, it is referred to as a “waiver”. The waivers make Medicaid funds available for home and community-based services as an alternative to institutional care.

Overview of the Waiver Programs Available in New Mexico

Currently, New Mexico has five Medicaid Waivers. These waivers serve New Mexico residents by providing supports and services that enable eligible individuals to live in their own home and/or community.

- ❖ The Medically Fragile Waiver Program helps children and adults with a developmental disabilities and a medically fragile condition. To qualify for services, the individual must:
 - have a medically fragile condition that requires extensive medical treatment and daily skilled nursing care;
 - be at risk for or have a developmental delay or disability that began before the age of twenty-two (22);
 - have mental retardation diagnosed before age 18, or
 - have a specific related condition and functional limitations in life activities diagnosed before age 22 and
 - need help with personal care (bathing, dressing, eating); and
 - meet Medicaid financial eligibility for services.
- ❖ The Disabled and Elderly Waiver Program helps children, adults and elderly people who have physical disabilities. To qualify for services, the individual must:
 - meet the medical eligibility requirements that one would need for admission to a nursing home (level of care), regardless of age; and
 - meet Medicaid financial eligibility for services.
- ❖ The Developmental Disabilities Waiver Program helps children and adults with developmental disabilities. To qualify for services, the individual must:
 - have mental retardation, diagnosed before age 18 or
 - have a specific related condition and functional limitations in life activities diagnosed before age 22, and
 - have a developmental disability that began prior to age 22; and
 - need a combination of special interdisciplinary services that are lifelong or of extended duration and are individually planned;
 - meet financial and medical criteria for care in an Intermediate Care Facility for the Mentally Retarded.

- ❖ The AIDS Waiver Program helps New Mexicans:
 - with a medical diagnosis of HIV+ and
 - who meet the financial criteria to make them eligible for services.

- ❖ The Mi Via Waiver Program (Self-Directed Program)
 - Individuals who choose to participate in Mi Via, a self-directed program, will have more choices, control, and freedom to design their own service plans to meet their functional, medical and social needs. Self directed programs allow participants to choose services they need, hire their own service workers, and decide where and how to spend their Mi Via budget. A consultant will provide assistance as necessary. Medicaid recipients who received long-term services through home and community based waiver programs such as the Disabled and Elderly, Developmental Disabilities, Medically Fragile, AIDS, and individuals with brain injuries will be eligible for Mi Via.
 - Individual must meet the eligibility requirements for either Medically Fragile, Disabled & Elderly, Developmental Disabilities, AIDS, or Brain Injury programs.
 - At the time of allocation the individual will be asked to choose either traditional or self-directed Waiver services.

Developmental Disabilities (DD) Waiver Program – Just the Facts

The NM Department of Health, Developmental Disabilities Supports Division (DDSD) administers the Developmental Disabilities Home and Community-Based Medicaid Waiver Program.

- The Mission of DDSD is to effectively administer a system of person-centered community supports and services that promotes positive outcomes for all stakeholders with a primary focus on assisting individuals with developmental disabilities and their families to exercise their right to make choices, grow, and contribute to their community.
- The DD Waiver program helps individuals in their communities. DD Waiver services promote independence and the achievement of personal goals.
- DD Waiver services are not a replacement for the family, informal caregiver or other community supports and services; the services are to supplement existing support systems.
- Culturally relevant services are provided focusing on assisting people with their daily lives and are generally provided in natural environments.
- Services in the community are typically provided in integrated settings that enhance the individual's opportunities to work and pursue personal interests.

Intermediate Care Facilities for the Mentally Retarded (ICFs/MR) are Medicaid-funded care facilities that provide food, shelter, health or rehabilitative and active treatment for persons with mental retardation or related conditions; these facilities are an alternative available to individuals with developmental disabilities in New Mexico. Publicly operated institutions for individuals with developmental disabilities in New Mexico were closed in 1996. Since that time, only a small number of privately-operated facilities continue to provide ICF/MR services in some locations around New Mexico.

Types of Services Available Under the DD Waiver

Below are support services that may be accessed once funding is made available (an allocation) through the DD Waiver and depending on individual need. There is an annual budget (Annual Resource Allotment) for services for each individual. The ARA is based on age-specific categories and level of need.

Case Management is the only service that must be provided to all individuals served by the DD Waiver. Other services for which the individual may qualify include:

HOW TO APPLY FOR THE DD WAIVER

Step 1 - Registering at the Developmental Disabilities Supports Division (DDSD)

It is very important to keep records; keep copies of all the documents you receive and/or fill out. You may want to keep a phone log (sample form on page 15) of calls you make regarding the DD Waiver.

- Step one of the application process is to register either by telephone or by visiting the DDSD Regional Office (see list of Regional Offices on page 12).
- When completing the application yourself:
 - Ask for a Waiver Services Registration form (MAD 325; see sample form on page 8).
 - Fill out the form completely. Remember, the applicant is the person with a disability.
 - All Waiver programs are listed on the Waiver Registration form. You can apply for more than one waiver, but may only receive services from one waiver at a time. You can also apply for the ICF/MR program; but you cannot receive ICF/MR services and waiver services at the same time.
 - The Registration Form may be mailed or turned in to the DDSD office. Make sure your application is stamped with the current date and that you receive a copy. Keep this copy with your records.
 - If it is more convenient, the MAD 325 may be taken to the local Income Support office (see addresses listed on pages 13 & 14) and they will send a copy of your registration form to DDSD.

If you move during any part of the application process, you need to let DDSD Regional Office in your area know your new address and phone number (See the list of regional offices page 12). It is important to keep this information current so that you can be notified when funds are available for you to receive the DD Waiver.

Step 2 - Documentation of Eligibility

- You will be sent a packet of documents from the Developmental Disabilities Support Division (DDSD) within two weeks of submitting your Waiver Services Registration form (MAD 325). The packet will include a letter from the DDSD with instructions for filling out the forms which are included:
 - Application Form
 - Authorization for Release of Information (make as many copies as needed)
 - Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act (HIPAA)

If you have not received anything within two to three weeks, call the DDSD Regional Office closest to you (list of regional offices page 12).

- Fill out the Application Form completely and return it to the DDSD Regional Office closest to you (sample form on page 17).
- Fill out the Authorization for Release of Information Forms (see sample forms on page 24). This form gives permission to doctors, hospitals, schools or others to send information to the DDSD Regional Office. DDSD will use the medical and psychological information released in determining if the applicant matches the definition of mental retardation or related condition.

Please send these forms directly to the professionals and/or agencies to which you are granting authorization to release copies of the applicant's records to the DDSD.

- Keep a record or a copy of everything you send to the DDSD.
- Upon receipt of the information, the DDSD will proceed to determine if the registrant matches the definition for a developmental disability.
- Contact your DDSD Regional Office if you want to check the status of your application. Ask if the office has received everything that is needed to make a determination. If not, ask what is still needed to complete the process and provide additional information, as necessary.
- DDSD may need several months to make an eligibility match. You will receive a letter stating whether or not the applicant's disabilities matches the definition for the DD Waiver or for State General Fund Services when determination is completed.

If you have not already applied for SSI it recommended you do so before being allocated to the DD Waiver. This is a process that takes some time to complete so it is best to have it done prior to allocation because the Social Security disability determination is required by the Income Support Division as part of the process to determine financial eligibility for the DD Waiver. For more information about applying for SSI go online to www.socialsecurity.gov/applyfordisability/

WHAT'S NEXT?

What is the Central Registry?

The Central Registry is a computer system that has all DD Waiver registrants listed. It is used to track registrations, match determinations and to offer allocation to the DD Waiver. Allocations to services for DD Waiver registrants are made by registration date. Priority is given to elderly caregivers (age 65 and over). Information about each applicant on the Central Registry is kept current with your help.

If your disability matches the definition for DD Waiver services, but you have not yet been allocated for services and are in a crisis situation, you or your advocate can contact your DDS Regional Office. Upon your request, DDS may consider granting you an expedited allocation.

Situation can be considered are:

- abuse/neglect/exploitation substantiated by Adult or Child Protective Services, or
- death or sudden disability of the primary caregiver which makes continued care of the individual no longer possible. An alternate primary caregiver is not available, and
- current resources are inadequate to ensure the health and safety of the individual

Other resources that may meet your immediate needs:

Once deemed a match on the Central Registry, you may, based on your registration date, be able to access some services under State General Funds. You might want to ask about:

- Respite services: offered to individuals of all ages to utilize when the primary caregiver needs a break from caring for their loved one. These services may be offered any time of the day or night when the individual is awake.
- Vocational Services or Day Habilitation: offers individuals purposeful work, learning, skill development or community involvement clearly linked to their long term dreams. These services may be offered any time of the day when the individual is awake.
- Residential Supports: offers the necessary assistance and support to meet the daily living and safety needs of the individual. These supports may be offered in the individual's natural home or in a group living environment.

What are my Rights and Responsibilities?

Rights:

- You have the right to register for services and have your match determined.
- You have the right to accept State General Fund Services and remain on the Central Registry for the Developmental Disabilities Waiver Program.
- You have the right to place your allocation on hold and remain on the Central Registry to be considered for services through the DD Waiver at another time.
- You have the right to privacy and to know that information you provide is kept private.
- You have the right to disagree with match decisions.
- You have the right to appeal a denial of waiver match decisions.

Responsibilities:

You have the responsibility to keep your Regional Office and informed of address changes.
You have the responsibility to respond to mail inquiries to keep your name active on the Registry.

What is an Allocation?

As funds become available to place people into services, allocations from the Central Registry are made by registration date.

- When your registration date comes up for allocation you will receive a Letter of Interest. You may choose not to receive services at this time, by putting your allocation on Hold, or you may choose not to receive Waiver services at all, thereby closing your file entirely. There is a form included for this purpose.
- You will be asked to choose between Waiver Services and placement in an ICF/MR.
- If you choose Waiver services, you will then be asked to choose between traditional DD Waiver Services and Mi Via (Self-Directed) Waiver Services. If you choose Mi Via, you will have a consultant available to assist you. If you choose traditional DD Waiver Services, you will select a case management agency. Select the agency best suited to you, and return the completed Freedom of Choice Form to DDS.
- For those choosing traditional DD Waiver services:
 - You will be contacted by your case manager to get acquainted.
 - Your case manager will share information about DDW services and providers.
- After you have returned a completed Primary Freedom of Choice Form to DDS, you will receive a Letter of Allocation from DDS. The allocation letter outlines instructions for you and the Case Manager.
 - You will be instructed to schedule an appointment with your local Income Support Office to determine your financial eligibility.
 - ❖ If you have not previously been determined eligible for Supplemental Security Income (SSI), the ISD worker will refer you to the Social Security Administration to complete this process.
 - You will be asked to schedule a physical examination with your doctor to determine a level of care for medical eligibility.
 - You will develop an Individual Service Plan (ISP) with your case manager and service providers.
- No funding for services can be available until ALL of the above steps have been completed.
